

Final Doppler DVOR beacon supplied

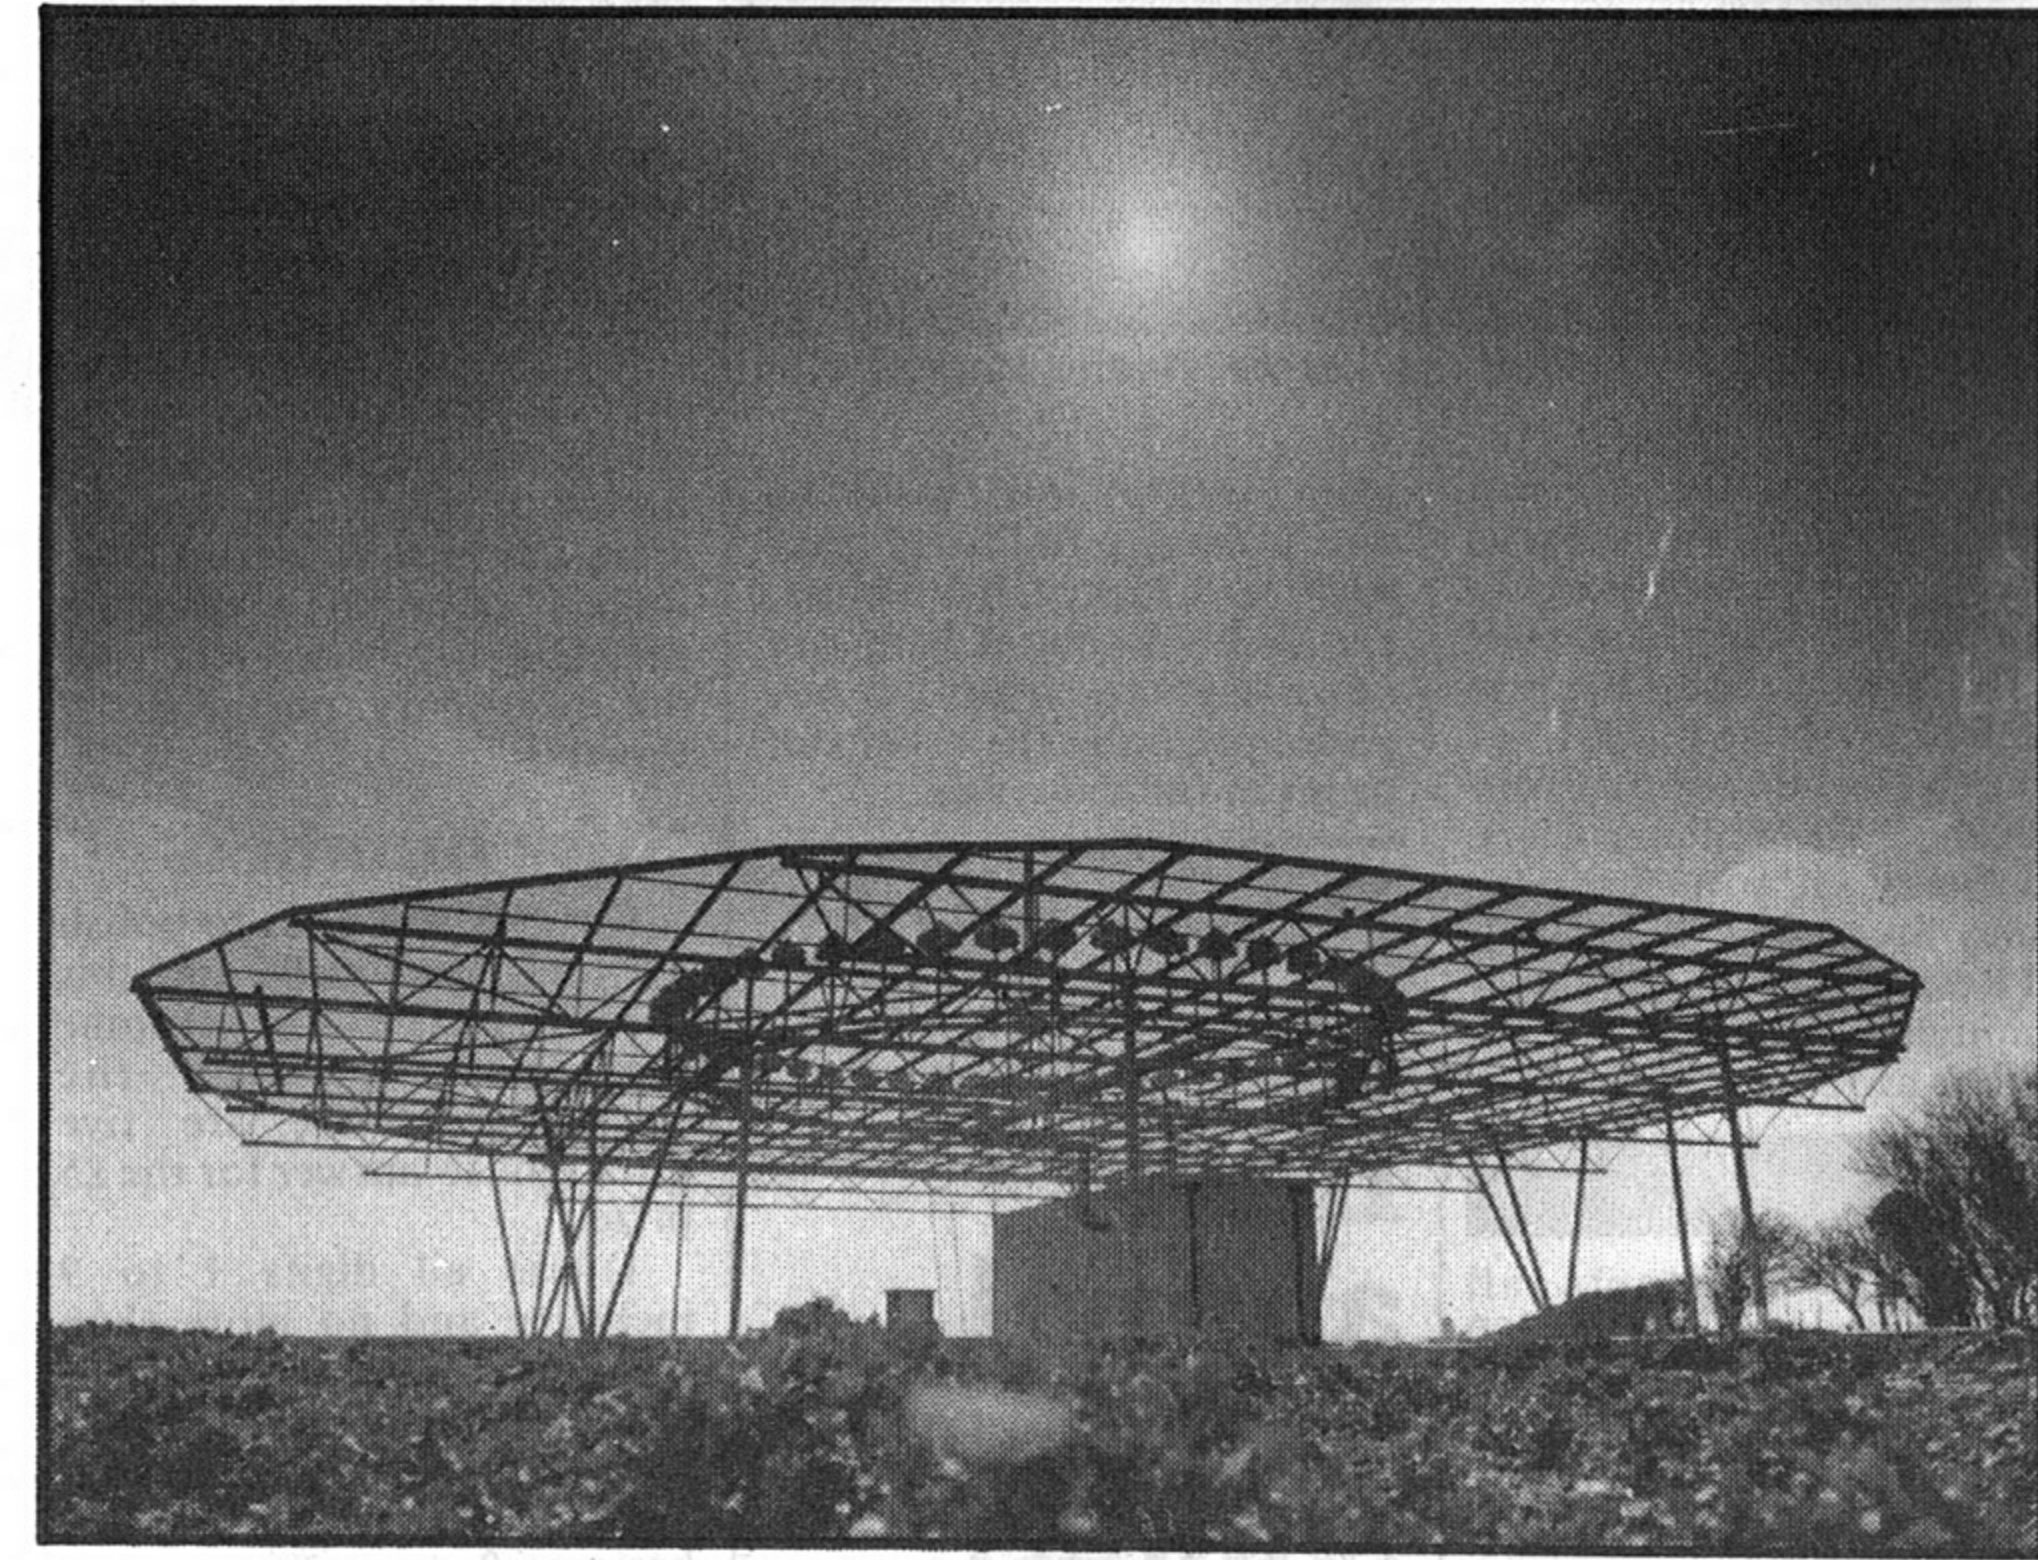

COMPLETION of a major contract worth £3.5 million, awarded to Racal Avionics by the Authority in 1982, was announced last month following the supply of the final Doppler VOR beacon.

Racal Avionics has supplied 27 advanced DVOR beacons. Twenty-two have already been installed throughout the UK and all 27 beacons are due to be in service early this year.

Fred Cartwright, Director of Projects and Engineering, said: "The CAA is pleased at the way in which Racal has kept to the planned production rate, and by the close working relationship we have enjoyed with the company. The Racal DVOR is proving to be amongst the most reliable equipment we presently have in operation."
